

16 September 2017

Franklin Street Works

making GET art OUT! public

Facts at a Glance

Date: Saturday, September 16, 2017

Time: 5:00 pm-8:00 pm

Location: Franklin Street Works

Estimated Attendance: 150

Event Theme: Celebration of Public Art, Annual Gala Event

Honoring: Tamara Dimitri, CT Office of the Arts and Cheryl Pope, Artist

Silent Auction, DJ Music with Emily Larned and Chris Ruggiero, Dinner by the Bite by Sweet Pistachio and Franklin Street Works Café.

Ticket Prices:

- $65 Activist
- $55 Activist Student/Member
- $85 Change Agent
- $250 Community Builder
- $500 Cultural Transformer
- $1,000 Status Quo Buster

Case for Support: Your sponsorship will help Franklin Street Works continue to:

- Present the region with museum quality contemporary art exhibitions
- Offer free admission to exhibitions and educational programs thus providing access to the arts for low and mid-income residents
- Cultivate a space where professionally curated contemporary art exhibitions and discourse are embraced and encouraged. (Many of our visitors have expressed that FSW is one of the best places to expand their minds)
- Provide financial, intellectual, and professional support for emerging artists to create and show new works, collaborate with other artists and curators, and receive direct feedback from audiences about their work
- Assist the city of Stamford to become a destination city for young professionals

Franklin Street Works is proud to announce that:

- In our first five years, we have curated 25 original exhibitions, worked with more than 350 internationally exhibiting artists, and have organized over 120 free public programs.
- We recently received our 2nd multi-year grant from The Andy Warhol Foundation for the Visual Arts.